^ Provisional name. Final determination on subject name to be made through the Subject Expert Group development process.

<sup>1</sup> Te Reo Māori is not a Learning Area in the NZC. However, we have listed it separately to denote its importance and for consistency with the NCEA Level 1 subject list.

<sup>2</sup> New Zealand Sign Language is not a Learning Area in the NZC. However, we have listed it separately to denote its importance and for consistency with the NCEA Level 1 subject list.

<sup>3</sup> Reverting to current name for now. Little support for a new name, and some confusion about what the subject would entail.

<sup>4</sup> New provisional name to reflect subject content. Film caused a lot of confusion in the sector, including negative feedback from Media Studies teachers who are concerned that the subject would encroach on Media Studies.

* Mathematics includes calculus

<sup>5</sup> Keeping provisional name for now as subject requires refocusing and rebranding. Final name to be determined by Subject Expert Group during subject development.

<sup>7</sup> The name Computer Science shows a clearer pathway to further education and employment and is a clearer articulation of the subject's intent. This also aligns with subject names in international qualifications.
